Cambrils, March 2023

(*) Definition monochrome

(This definition replaces the document 223 and the INFO 1991-1912)

A black and white work going from the darker gray (black) to very light gray (white) is a monochrome with the different shades of gray.

A black and white, running entirely in a single color, it will remain a monochrome and may appear on the black and white category; this work may be reproduced in black and white in the catalog of a lounge under the sponsorship FIAP.

On the other hand, a black and white work modified by a partial turn or the addition of a color is converted to a color (polychrome) should be listed in the color category; this work needs the color reproduction in the catalog of a lounge under the sponsorship FIAP.

() Definition portrait

The photographic portrait is a genre where they meet a whole series of artistic initiatives that revolve around the idea of showing the physical or emotional qualities of the people who appear in the photographic images.

(*) Definition nature

Nature photography is a modality of the broad photographic theme that tries to frame on paper the grandeur of landscapes, wildlife and small details. Nature photography tends to focus its attention on capturing aesthetic aspects, far above other types of photography, and includes:

- Underwater photography
- Macro
- Wildlife
- Landscape
- Astrophotography
- Aerial photography
